Oregon, Missouri.

FRIDAY MORNING, AUG. 23, 1867.

We place an X after the names of subscribers, when the term of subscription has expired. If they do not then renew within a reasonable time, we take it for granted they do not wish the paper longer, and drop their names from the list.

Subscriptions received and forwarded by the following named authorized agents:

Geo. Weber, Esq., Forest City.
Wm. Hohlitzell, Mound City.
A. J. Castle, Oregon.
B. F. Potter, P. M. Oregon.
Robt Markland, Rush Bottom.

During a temporary absence of the editor, the editorial department of this paper will be in the charge of Mr. Cyrus B. Bowman.

A special dispatch to the New York World says Gen. Grant has urged President Johnson to dismiss every member of his Cabinet in order to create harmony between the President and his advisors.

On Monday night last, a party entered the office of the Merchant's Union Express, at Savannah, blew open the safe and stole therefrom the sum of three hundred dollars in greenbacks. None of the robbers were arrested.

Last year the specie product of Nevada was $16,171,381. During the first six months of the present year it has amounted to $9,341,949, being an increase of $2,078,731 over the amount produced in the corresponding period of 1866. It is thought the gold crop for the year, of that section, will exceed $20,000,000.

On the 17th inst., President Johnson assigned Maj. Gen. Geo. H. Thomas to the command of the Fifth Military District, vice Maj. Gen. Sheridan removed, who has been assigned to the command of the Department of the Missouri, from which Maj. Gen. Hancock has been transferred to the Department of the Cumberland, in place of Gen. Thomas. The President seems to be getting as notorious for removals as he has been for vetoes.

OPEN THE DOORS.

The undefined uncertainty which seems to have laid a paralyzing power on the wheels of commerce and trade for some time past, appears to be taking wings; progress begins to look beyond the ordinary obstacles into a glorious future, and business men begin to see a light in the dark cloud which has been lowering over St. Joseph and the surrounding villages, in sure presage of a storm whose fury would leave them helpless wrecks. The people seem, for once, in earnest on railroad matters. St. Joseph has shown herself worthy of the confidence of every influence that could add to that magnanimous spirit which bespoke the glorious future of that city on the day of her late election. St. Joseph will yet realize the fruition of her wildest dream, in progress, and the counties of Andrew, Nodaway, Atchison, and Holt, will no longer flounder in a slough far this side of the realization of their golden harvest, and fatted stock awaiting the train for Chicago and New York markets. Immigration has already turned its eye towards the Platte Purchase. From all portions of the country comes the cheering assurance that ere long a tide of immigration will set in northwestward. Farmers, mechanics, capitalists, and professional men, have long conceded that Northwest Missouri was the Eden of the West, and now we may look with assurance for their coming. The advance guard of the coming host has already made its appearance, and there is every indication that Holt will receive her merited share.

We should give them a wide welcome, and make them to feel that this is the land of social worth as well as that of "milk and honey." Let nothing be left undone that will secure to these coming influences. It behooves our citizens to receive and encourage these new-comers; cut up these sections of prairie and make reasonable sized farms; and the few high-flying speculators who have over-reached their tether by recklessly plunging too far beyond in wild land, may now return and divide up with the sensible farmer, who needs but one hundred and twenty acres of the Platte Purchase soil to lay up treasures thereon.

TEN years ago there were 25,000 Cherokees. To-day there are about 14,000. War, rum, and disease have been too much for the nation.

At a picnic near Lynchburg, Va., on Tuesday of last week, poison was put in the refreshments by unknown parties. Five whites and three blacks have died from its effects, and six or eight are not expected to recover.

MANY of President Johnson's intimate friends are condemning his action in the removal of Mr. Stanton from the War office.

The Helena Herald of the 31st ult., says that a man arrived at that place from the West, who said that he had come from Vermilion. Thirty-one men were working there, making from fifteen to twenty dollars per day to the man, when a party of Black Feet Indians came down and massacred all but himself. It's a big story!

THE SURRETT TRIAL.—The jury in the Surratt trial, after being out for several days, sent in word that they were unable to agree, and asked to be discharged, which was done. Surratt remains in prison, to await another trial. New and important evidence is said to have been found, since the close of the testimony. It is to be hoped that on the next trial, rebels and men who can be bribed will be kept off the jury.

REMOVAL OF THE SECRETARY OF WAR.

Correspondence Between President Johnson, Gen. Grant and Mr. Stanton.

The following is a verbatim copy of the correspondence between the President, Gen. Grant and Secretary Stanton, upon the removal of the latter!

Sir: By virtue of the power and authority vested in me as President, by the constitution and laws of the United States, you are hereby suspended from office as Secretary of War, and will cease to exercise all functions pertaining to the same. You will at once transfer to Gen. U. S. Grant, who has this day been authorized and empowered to act as Secretary of War ad interim, all records, books, papers and other public property now in your custody and charge. Very respectfully yours, ANDREW JOHNSON.

To the Hon. Edwin M. Stanton Secretary of War.

Sir: Your note of this date has been received, informing me that by virtue of the power and authority vested in you as President, by the constitution and laws of the United States, I am suspended from office as Secretary of War, and will cease to exercise all functions pertaining to the same; and also directing me at once to transfer to General U. S. Grant, who has this day been authorized and empowered to act as Secretary of War ad interim, all records, books, papers and other public property now in my custody and charge.

Under a sense of public duty, I am compelled to deny your right under the constitution and laws of the United States, without the advice and consent of the Senate, and without legal cause, to suspend me from office as Secretary of War, or the exercise of any or all the functions pertaining to the same, or without such advice or consent, to compel me to transfer to any person the records, books, papers and public property in my custody as Secretary. But inasmuch as the general commanding the armies of the United States has been appointed ad interim, and has notified that he has accepted the appointment, I have no alternative but to submit under protest to a superior force.

Very respectfully yours, E. M. STANTON, Sec'y of War.

To the President.

Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War: Sir: Enclosed herewith I have to transmit to you the copy of a letter just received from the President of the United States, notifying me to assume those duties at once. In notifying you of my acceptance I cannot let the opportunity pass without expressing to you my appreciation of the great position, the confidence, ability with which you have ever discharged the duty as Secretary of War. With great respect, your obedient servant, U. S. GRANT, Gen.

In accordance with those orders Gen. Grant quietly took possession of the War office about noon, not even the clerks in the office knowing of the change.

Sir: The Hon. E. M. Stanton, having been this day suspended as Secretary of War, you are hereby authorized and empowered to act as Secretary of War ad interim, and will at once enter upon the discharge of the duties of the office. The Secretary of War has been instructed to transfer to you all the records, books, papers and other public property now in his custody and charge. Very respectfully, ANDREW JOHNSON.

To Gen. U. S. Grant.

GENERAL: Your note of this date, accompanied by a copy of a letter addressed August 12th, by the President, appointing you Secretary of War ad interim, and informing me of your acceptance of the appointment has been received. Under a sense of duty I am compelled to deny the President's right, under the laws of the United States, to suspend me from office as Secretary of War, or to authorize any other person to enter upon the discharge of the duties of that office, or to require me to transfer to you or any other person, records, books and papers, and other public property in my official custody as Secretary of War. But inasmuch as the President has assumed to suspend me from office as Secretary of War, and you have notified me of your acceptance of the appointment of Secretary of War ad interim, I have no alternative but to submit under protest to the superior force of the President. And will please except my acknowledgment of the kind terms in which you have notified me of your acceptance of the President's appointment, and my cordial reciprocation of the sentiments expressed. I am, with sincere regard, truly yours, E. M. STANTON, Sec'y of War.

To General U. S. Grant.

COLONEL BENNIS commenced the survey of the St. Joe and Council Bluffs Railroad on the morning of the 20th inst., from St. Joseph. A large number of citizens turned out to witness the initiatory ceremonies.

We have heard within a few days past that the armies of grasshoppers had appeared upon the farms to the north of us, and were devastating everything in their reach. We had hoped that they might be either false or exaggerated reports, but are now informed by late arrivals that they are true in every particular. A gentleman who has been to Cheyenne says they are destroying everything. When he went up he found them on the summit between Virginia Dale and Willow Springs, and traveling south. On his return—one week after—they were at Cache la Poudre, having traveled seventy miles during the week. We may therefore calculate that we shall in a few days receive a visit from them in this locality, as they appear to be coming in this direction. Where they have been, they have taken the grain off completely to within a few inches of the ground. It is not a very pleasant reflection, and is indeed discouraging to our farmers. Losing the labor and expense of the summer, is certainly not a consummation devoutly to be wished. Without crops, and encircled on all sides by an Indian war, our situation will be anything but flattering during the coming winter.—[Denver Tribune.]

ST. JOSEPH AND COUNCIL BLUFFS RAILROAD.—Mr. Ferriss, the Chief Engineer of this Railroad is in town to commence locating the road south of this place. The company are only waiting for a special election to be held in St. Joseph, before commencing work. As there is but little doubt that the people of St. Joseph will vote the required sum, we may expect the southern road to be completed by July next.

Mr. Phelps has commenced laying track from Bartlett south, and will push it on as fast as possible. The iron and ties are now on the road, and if the Missouri river should be reasonably well, two months will surely bring the cars to Hamburg.—[Hamburg (Iowa) Times.]

ORIGIN OF THE PRESIDENT'S WAR UPON STANTON.—Since the fight has become an open one, the fact may be settled that for the last few weeks previous to the adjournment of Congress facts came to the knowledge of the War Department and general government office that convinced Stanton and Grant that a difficulty of a most serious character would follow an adjournment to December. The earnest importunities of the officers above induced the Senators to hold the power of meeting in their own hands. From this time the President has waged a bitter war on Stanton who had thwarted his deep schemes.

FRUITS OF RADICALISM.—Missouri prescribes a test oath for lawyers, and disfranchises rebels as rigidly and unsparingly as Tennessee. She is ultra-Radical. Yet her bonds sold in New York market, on the 13th inst., at 101. So much for the State which two years ago the rebel journals told the public that Radical legislation was running to perdition. She is to-day one of the most prosperous and thriving States in the Union. Her decent rebels are becoming quiet; thrifty foreigners are coming in, and her rowdy rebels are running off to Brazil.—[Nashville Press and Times.]

WHILE some workmen were engaged in painting the steeple of the German Catholic Church at Quincy, the other day, one of them climbed to the top of the cross, which surmounts the steeple, at an altitude of one hundred and ninety-eight feet, and stood erect for several minutes, with one foot on each arm of the cross and his arms extended. The spectators were thrilled with anxiety for the safety of the fool-hardy adventurer; but he was fortunate enough to descend from his perilous position in safety.

THE Grand State Lodge of Massachusetts Odd Fellows met at Boston on Thursday, and about 800 representatives from 53 lodges were present. The revenue of the Lodge during the year was over $60,000, of which about $2,000 was paid for expenses of the Grand Lodge; $15,000 for sick benefits; $3,500 for funeral expenses of deceased members and $10,000 for other charitable purposes. Fifty-nine Lodges, with an aggregate of 6,000, are now in the State, and in the past year the Order gained about 1,000 members.

THERE is no delusion more common, or more fatal to our everlasting welfare, than that which persuades us to put off our repentance until a "more convenient season."
